Executive Officer's Report

Planning preparations are well underway for plenty of upcoming activities in the community. Firstly during the April school holidays we have secured funding through the Department of Communities to host a free Paint & Water wars challenge and games day on our town oval on Friday 14th April which is also being supported financially by our local Shire of Shark Bay.

This free, fun and inviting event will celebrate the contributions of young people (aged 10-25 years) as they can participate with their friends, make new ones, get messy and let their hair down. The event will capitalise on attendance, as many local children return home from boarding school as well as the growth of town population due to the school holidays. Its open to all ages, young and senior.

Also present will be visiting youth service organisations who are keen to make the trek to our community to offer their services and develop a rapport with youth and their families. These organisations are aware of many of the common issues and concerns of youth and can identify and offer possible solutions as they engage and or explore other matters. In attendance on the day will be;

- Geraldton Regional Aboriginal Medical Service (GRAMS) who are keen to discuss health topics including drinking, smoking, vaping etc.
- Consumer Protection who are keen to identify youth rights and advise where youth can go to get help if things go wrong as they start to become of the age where they start buying things for themselves, or are ready to move out of the family home including; buying a vehicle; renting a place; contracts (mobile phones etc); buying online; general shopping rights - returns and replacements; occupational licensing and how to go about making a complaint.

- Ngala Parenting Connect and Carnarvon Family Support will be present, keen to mingle and will be hosting two free information sessions for adults regards protective behaviours for youth as well as uning into teens.

Other organisations will also be present on the day including our local Shark Bay P&C Association who will be selling a sausage sizzle, drinks and snacks as well as Real Futures, Shire and Community Resource Centre staff and hopefully our local Police if there are available.

We look forward to your presence and remember to bring along some loose change, a water bottle, towel and wear some light colour clothes so you can get all messy!

The Shark Bay Fiesta is only a month away and grant applications have been submitted across numerous organisations to enhance entertainment inclusions. A draft program will be circulated soon so you can start planning.

Clean Up Australia Day

The Denham and Little Lagoon Clean Up Day

It was a beautiful day this year for Clean Up Australia Day. We had a fantastic turn out bright and early on a Sunday morning, with community members and visitors making up a really impressive 30 registrations for this year's event.

Once our volunteers had registered, they were allocated a section of road or beach between Netta's Beach, the township of Denham, and all the way to the Monkey Mia road opposite Little Lagoon.

We collected enough rubbish to have the Shire ute bursting at the seams and Liam Harrower even found an old boat cover washed up on the rocks.

It was great to see so many families coming down and getting their kids involved, just days after they had done their own school clean-up day. Well done kids! All of our hard-working volunteers were thanked with a sausage sizzle after the clean-up, cooked by Chef Dale, our Shire CEO.

Thank you to everyone who helped to keep our beautiful town clean!

Round 2 Community Assistance Grants

Shark Bay School

We've had a very busy term so far, including all the meetings and planning with parents to ensure we are meeting all students' needs, and the professional learning for staff to ensure we are fully benefitting from the evidence-based strategies and programs that deliver the best educational outcomes. Additionally, a great deal of formal assessment has been completed, including OnEntry and NAPLAN tests. Our testing programs ran very smoothly, and I thank the staff for the additional work involved. Ms Brennan and I attended the first day of a 'masterclass' in teaching program called Teachwell, and Ms Brennan will be at the forefront of introducing the benefits of the program to the school.

We have had full classes this term, with three year levels in our Year 1-3 and Year 4-6 classes and it will be wonderful to change to our preferred class model next term. We will be welcoming two new teachers to our team. Miss Paola Osorio will take our Year 3-4 class. She has extensive experience, especially in differentiating student learning and embedding engaging cross-curricular STEM activities. Ms Jacqueline Barber will be joining Mr Morris as a Secondary/Primary Generalist. Ms Barber brings experience as a Senior Teacher with a science leadership background and will be supporting science across upper primary as well as adding to the depth of support for our high school students.

Assembly 10/3/23

Our first Assembly of the year was held on the Friday of week 6, featuring Buyungurra class. It was an opportunity for our high school students to mention some of their activities – Workplace Learning, after school clubs, and practicing volleyball with a goal of competing in Country Week. It was also a great chance for their new teacher, Mr Morris, to introduce himself and explain that while enrichment is valuable, the focus of our class is academic achievement to unlock future opportunities, and it was pleasing to see our high school certificates awarded for outstanding assessment results.

Certificates were awarded to James, Natasha, Pe... Congratulations to the...

Clean Up Australia

Our students put the... any scraps of rubbish... 10 March.

We aim to increase our focus on Sustainability in a number of ways, for example less plastic use and wastage, reduced electricity use (switching off when we can) and care with water. One specific change is that we are reducing laminating things in plastic to occasions when that is really necessary. We are trailing issuing Assembly Certificates on unlaminated card, though will laminate them on request. Thanks for your support as we do our best to make sensible steps to reducing our ecological footprint at school.

Year 6 Leadership Camp

Our Year 6 students leaders set off on camp on Wednesday 22nd March. For the first time, this is an on-country camp in the François Peron National Park. They will be sleeping in swags, fishing for food, swimming, kayaking and learning about country, culture and language.

P&C

We all enjoyed our St Patrick's Day themed lunches on 17th March. Thank you to the volunteer chefs! We're delighted with the size of membership of the P&C this year and the great ideas coming from the members and their generous offers of time and support, for lunches, special activities, Harmony Day, Footy tipping, Discos and all the other great things planned for the year. Tickets for the Easter Raffle will be available at Reception on 6/4/2023.

Harmony Week

Many thanks to Bec Pavey and Trudy Grant and the rest of the team of P&C helpers for all the Harmony Week fun, helping everyone to remember that 'we all belong'. There has been flag-creating at lunch times, dancing and cooking. Our Buyungurra students were helped to have a cooking afternoon and treated the rest of the school to amazing platters.

School Council

The school Council is reviewing our new Strategic Plan for ongoing school improvement, and this will be the focus of our second meeting for Term 1. The staff team is also keen to engage the school Council and community in a review of our current school logo (dolphins) and motto to ensure it fully reflects our vision and aspirations. All members of our school community are warmly welcomed to complete our current School Culture Survey, emailed to our current contact list or available on request.

Vaping Information Our local police have advised of recent vaping activity around town. While vapes are legal for those who have been prescribed them to help stop cigarette smoking, they are illegal for all others and have highly adverse effects of their own, including increased risk of depression and anxiety and serious lung disease. The liquid in vapes and the vapour is not water. Vapes can expose young people to:

- the same harmful chemicals found in cleaning products, nail polish remover, weed killer and bug spray.
- toxins such as formaldehyde and heavy metals.
- ultrafine particles that can be inhaled deep into the lungs.
- flavouring chemicals such as diacetyl (a chemical linked to serious lung disease)

People often purchase vapes online, from retail stores or from friends and contacts in the community. However, it is illegal in WA to sell e-cigarette devices and nicotine vaping products to anyone regardless of age, unless they are prescribed by a doctor and obtained with a prescription from a pharmacy. It is also illegal to sell vapes to friends at school or in the community. If you suspect someone is selling vapes or e-cigarettes and their components, you can report it to the Department of Health by emailing TobaccoPolicy@health.wa.gov.au or by contacting our local police.

You may not know your child is vaping as vapes are small and resemble common items like highlighters, pens and USB drives. They are also not easy to smell. Tell-tale signs that your child might be vaping include the symptoms of nicotine addiction such as irritability or anxiety. If your child is vaping, let them know that they need to stop, that help is available and that you are there for them. Stopping vaping can sometimes be hard and your child may need advice from a GP.

Safety on site COVID-19 is still very much around. Please monitor your child/yourself for symptoms. <https://www.healthywa.wa.gov.au>. WA Health 1300 316 555.

The Crew in Blue

While we have missed the last couple of Inscription Post's, we have been here, busy with various Policing tasks and preparation for the upcoming Total Solar Eclipse and busy tourist season.

Some incidents reported to us lately are third, fourth, or fifth-hand. Rather than reporting to the Police themselves, they are instead talking about the incident in the community, where it eventually makes its way back to us. By this point, it is unclear what occurred, who it involved, and when or where it happened. This creates the belief that we are doing nothing to resolve the incident. For this reason, we would like to reinforce, if an incident occurs that is a Police matter, it needs to be reported by calling 000 (emergency), 131 444 (general inquiries), 9915 9100 (will divert to Geraldton when we are not at the station) or attending the station.

If the incident is indeed a Police matter, we will follow it up, update you on its progress, resolving it as quickly as possible. If it is not a Police matter, we will advise you of the next possible steps. This does not mean we will do nothing, just that the person/s are not criminally liable at that time. We are not here as pseudo-parents, talking to children for misbehaving, but at times we will engage with parents regarding complaints and, with their support, often a talk is all that is required. If it continues, unless it is criminal, it is not an issue we can take further but falls back to parent responsibility.

In a continued effort to keep the community safe, we will be inspecting bicycles, scooters, eRideables, and other modes of transport used to ensure that safety is up to standard. This includes the rider traveling at a legal speed and them wearing appropriate safety equipment, such as a helmet.

'Vaping' is also becoming more prevalent within the community. In one instance it is alleged 'vapes' have been given to children. We have the power to seize and destroy any vapes possessed without a prescription as it is illegal to sell, supply, or possess nicotine vaping products (or any liquid that contains nicotine) without a prescription from a doctor, including products imported from overseas. If you suspect someone is selling or supplying vapes or e-cigarettes, you can report it to the Department of Health by emailing TobaccoPolicy@health.wa.gov.au. Further information on the dangers of 'vaping' can be found at www.healthywa.wa.gov.au/vaping.

The Shark Bay Liquor Accord (SBLA) is still in effect. This means that if you are banned from any licensed premises within the Shark Bay area, this will be brought to the SBLA and it is likely that you will be subsequently banned from ALL licensed premises within the Shark Bay area, including temporary licensed premises (Fiesta etc).

The holidays will soon be upon us, so remember to take extra care on the roads if you are traveling and lock up your valuables.

Consumer Watch

Give pet scams paws for thought

Cute photos of puppies and kittens have been used by scammers for years to dupe prospective pet buyers out of their hard-earned money and it's only getting worse.

In Western Australia last year, our WA ScamNet team received 114 reports of pet scams, with 75 victims losing more than $216,000 – a three-fold increase on both the losses and victim numbers reported five years earlier in 2017.

Most pet scams begin with online searches for animal breeders, or advertisements that appear on online marketplaces and social media, with images or videos often stolen from legitimate websites.

Although the ad may suggest the seller is local, when contacted they will say they are outside WA or located remotely and the animal needs to be transported. This tactic is used to get you to pay more money for fake shipping fees, airfares or travel insurance.

The biggest red-flag that you're dealing with a scammer is the method of payment, with money sent via bank transfer unlikely to be recovered. Don't be fooled by Australian bank account details either, as scammers are known to use money mules to look more legitimate.

For this reason, we recommend only paying via credit card or a secure payment platform like PayPal as there's potential to get your money back if the animal never turns up.

Other warning signs are limited contact, no address details on the website and false claims of being a registered breeder that can easily be verified.

With so many downsides to buying a pet online, it is generally safer for consumers to shop locally so they can personally inspect the animal and meet its owner. Consider going through legitimate breeding organisations such as Dogs West or the Cat Owners Association to verify breeder information and registered contact details, or give serious thought to adopting through a shelter or rescue centre.

Prospective pet owners can check the new consumer's guide to buying a pet on our website for handy tips on how to identify genuine sellers.

If you have doubts about an online transaction, call WA ScamNet on 1300 30 40 54 or email consumer@dmirs.wa.gov.au for advice. Report scams to www.scamnet.wa.gov.au

Conservation Matters

Being part of something special - Return to 1616

With two years of above-average winter rainfall in the bay, vegetation is flourishing on Dirk Hartog Island National Park. This is good news for the fledgling, native animal populations being returned as part of the Return to 1616 Ecological Restoration Project. With each new flush of growth comes more food and shelter for the island inhabitants. It's still early days though and whilst populations of these animals appear to be doing well, they are still small, fragile and precious. Everything possible needs to be done to look after these populations.

Whilst it's generally well understood that dogs are not permitted in national parks, it's particularly important in Dirk Hartog Island National Park. Dogs will do what comes naturally and it would potentially only take a few seconds for a dog to have a serious impact on a small, newly introduced population of threatened native animals. It is therefore critically important for visitors to the island to remember to leave their dogs at home.

Giving each individual native animal as much protection as possible can have a really positive effect and it's good to know that we can all 'do our bit' to help protect this internationally significant wildlife restoration project.

Every protection measure that visitors take, adds to a bright future for these vulnerable Australians. Even small things like installing rodent bait stations on your boat will help to keep out the highly invasive black rat, which is known to have significantly impacted wildlife on islands around the world.

Right - It only takes a few seconds for a dog to have a serious impact on these precious animals. Remember to leave your dog at home when visiting the island.

Fortunately helping these fragile populations is easy! Whether travelling to the island by boat or 4WD, watch the island protection video, and download and read the island protection brochure before you leave home, to find travel tips that will help you plan your trip.

Below - Remember to install bait stations on your boat and keeping them topped up with fresh bait will help to prevent bringing any 'freeloading rodents' with you when you visit Dirk Hartog Island National Park.

What! No Kangaroos?

Did you know that there are no kangaroos on Dirk Hartog Island? Any 'kangaroo-like' animal that you see there is a threatened hare-wallaby. Wild populations of hare-wallabies are extinct on the mainland as a result of predation by feral cats and foxes and loss of habitat. However in Dirk Hartog Island National Park, there are many places where you can now enjoy the unique experience of finding hare-wallaby tracks as a result of the Return to 1616 Ecological Restoration Project.

Visitors driving on the island are often surprised to learn that they aren't the only ones using 4WD tracks. Hare-wallabies and many native animals use vehicle tracks too! To help to keep these precious native animals safe, avoid driving from dusk to dawn when they are most active.

Shark Bay Science Plan released with help of community

A comprehensive science plan aimed at protecting Shark Bay, that incorporates input by researchers, the Denham community, industry managers and Malgana people, has been released by the Western Australian Marine Science Institution.

A Science Plan for Shark Bay (Gathaagudu) outlines top priorities for scientific research to create a more resilient, sustainable region. Shark Bay, which is a UNESCO World Heritage site, is slowly recovering from an extreme marine heatwave.

WAMSI Research Director and the report's chief author, Dr Jenny Shaw, said the area had come to be seen as an environmental 'canary in the coal mine' and climate change research was a key priority to emerge from the plan.

"The frequency and duration of marine heatwaves is increasing, and this has subsequent impacts to the base of the food web, the health of the ecosystem and, in turn, the economy, Indigenous culture and livelihoods," Dr Shaw said. "While climate change is impacting the rest of the WA coastline, the impacts to Shark Bay are distinctive.

"Shark Bay has the world's largest and richest seagrass meadows, it's home to the world's biggest population of dugongs, it's one of the few places globally with marine stromatolites – the oldest living lifeform – and it also has one of Western Australia's most valuable fishing industries," Dr Shaw said.

"But we have seen how vulnerable it is following the marine heatwave and subsequent cyclones and flooding."

Shark Bay was hit hard in 2011 by a marine heatwave and other extreme weather which devastated a large amount of seagrass – a vital part of the ecosystem. A number of fisheries were also closed and others impacted.

Widespread consultation carried out as part of the Science Plan identified climate change as the biggest threat to the iconic region and ways of mitigating the threat as the top priority for research.

"The Science Plan is the result of a review of research in the area over the past 70 years along with consultation with scientists, Traditional Owners, managers and the broader Denham community."

"We held workshops and did surveys and identified more than 90 issues that were a research priority and where there were currently knowledge gaps."

The impact of climate change on seagrass meadows and marine animals was a top priority for research along with studies of seagrass, sediment ecology and the mapping of habitat for fish and other marine animals.

Dr Shaw said Shark Bay was unique in many ways but the threats it faced were not.

"Implementation of the Science Plan and associated outcomes will also be beneficial for other coastal locations requiring intervention and management," Dr Shaw said.

"The pressures facing Shark Bay urgently need to be addressed and could cause widespread loss of key ecological values, fisheries, tourism, economic sustainability, regional cultural values and potentially its World Heritage status," Dr Shaw said.

Seagrass Restorations in the Bay

Seagrass (wirriya jalyanu) restoration team completes a 1 Ha restoration site at Useless Loop

University of Western Australia and Murdoch University researchers, volunteers, Tidal Moon Sea Cucumbers P/L, Malgana Aboriginal Corporation (MAC) Rangers, and the Useless Loop local community worked together to complete a 1ha seagrass restoration site at Useless Loop this February. A new partnership between UWA researchers and Shark Bay Resources provided local employment and training opportunities in seagrass restoration.

We got to work after a warm 'Welcome to Country' by Malgana Elder Tom Poland and Malgana man, Sean McNeair. MAC Ranger, Richard Cross, joined us along with two new trainee Rangers, Malcolm Cross and Kiefer Cross. Richard assisted with knowledge sharing of Sea Country, as the new trainee rangers learned about different types of seagrass, how to prepare ribbon weed and wire weed transplants for replanting, and snorkelled amongst the seagrasses. We all got busy filling seagrass snaggers, wieners, and even recycled coffee bags. Both trainee rangers demonstrated great sewing skills as we developed ways to turn coffee bags into a substrate for wire weed seedlings to attach to.

Two mornings of throwing snaggers and wieners off the boat made a welcome change to beach activities for the MAC Rangers. This permitted the rangers to view the restoration site which is in approximately 4.5m of water. The visibility had improved enough to see all the way to the sea floor.

A visual record of the underwater restoration site, which used different planting and restoration methods, was created by Malcolm and Kiefer. The creative and colourful record was used to share seagrass restoration knowledge with the Useless Loop pre-primary and years 3 – 6 students during their visit to Whiting Bay.

Our goal was to complete a 1ha seagrass restoration site that we began back in September 2022. And we completed it! The mammoth effort included harvesting ribbon weed and wire weed cuttings, preparing and transplanting approximately 5,000 cuttings and deploying over 1,500 seagrass snaggers and wieners (sand-filled hessian socks).

Monitoring is also an important part of restoration, so we also checked to see how our previous efforts had fared from last September. Did the transplanted seagrasses survive? Were the 'seagrass snaggers' and 'wieners' stabilising the sandy bottom, or snagging new wire weed seedlings? The now five month old transplants could be seen as soon as we jumped in the water. They were looking healthy, with over 85% surviving and even a few with new shoots, How exciting! We will continue to monitor the site annually to be sure the transplants are establishing and the new meadow is expanding. Phew!!

Plant it, sew it, deploy it, and they will come? The old saying 'Curiosity killed the cat'.... but it increases biodiversity within the restoration site! High density seagrass plantings were especially popular, as they form an almost instant meadow. Plantings of different densities are being used as part of a trial to explore the interaction between seagrass and tidal flow. Sea critters had moved into the site - schools of butterfly, mushroom corals growing near new transplants, hermit crabs, cone snails, and many different fish species visited the newly establishing seagrass habitat, to explore it and perhaps find a new home. A squid tested out its camouflage strategy (of purple and white stripes) next to newly planted wire weed with deep purple leaves. Two sea snakes were also spotted, distracting our experienced dive team! Small warm water (tropical) seagrasses (Halodule, Halophila and Cymodocea), seaweeds and mushroom corals are already growing in amongst the snaggers, wieners, and transplants. Biodiversity is returning to the open sandy environment.

We are grateful for the interest, enthusiasm, and support from the local Shark Bay community including Sean and the team at Tidal Moon who volunteered their time and resources to collect 2,300 seagrass cuttings for transplanting this February. Their professional dive team collected all the transplants that went into the restoration site, a mammoth effort of approximately 5,000 transplants in total. The Useless Loop community including the Primary School students filled so many wieners. Well done everyone!!

Keep an eye out for ways to get involved as we seek to continue restore a further 4ha of seagrass habitat with ongoing support from Shark Bay Resources.

BAITING TO PROTECT NATIVE WILDLIFE

Under the Parks and Wildlife Service's Western Shield program, baiting to control foxes and feral cats occurs on more than three million hectares of conservation lands in Western Australia.

The baits used are toxic to introduced animals but not to native animals which have an evolved tolerance to the active compound (1080). All baited areas are signposted.

Baiting occurs on a regular and ongoing basis to protect endangered native animals including the numbat, western ground parrot and western swamp tortoise.

Attention pet owners: these baits will kill domestic dogs and cats. Baited areas must be considered dangerous for pet dogs and cats at all times.

For more information and maps on areas baited under Western Shield visit dbca.wa.gov.au/westernshield or contact your local Parks and Wildlife Service district office.

Western Shield is generously sponsored by Alcoa, Tronox and Western Areas.

Shark Bay State Emergency Service Unit

For assistance
132 500

We've had a productive month at the Shark Bay State Emergency Service Unit.

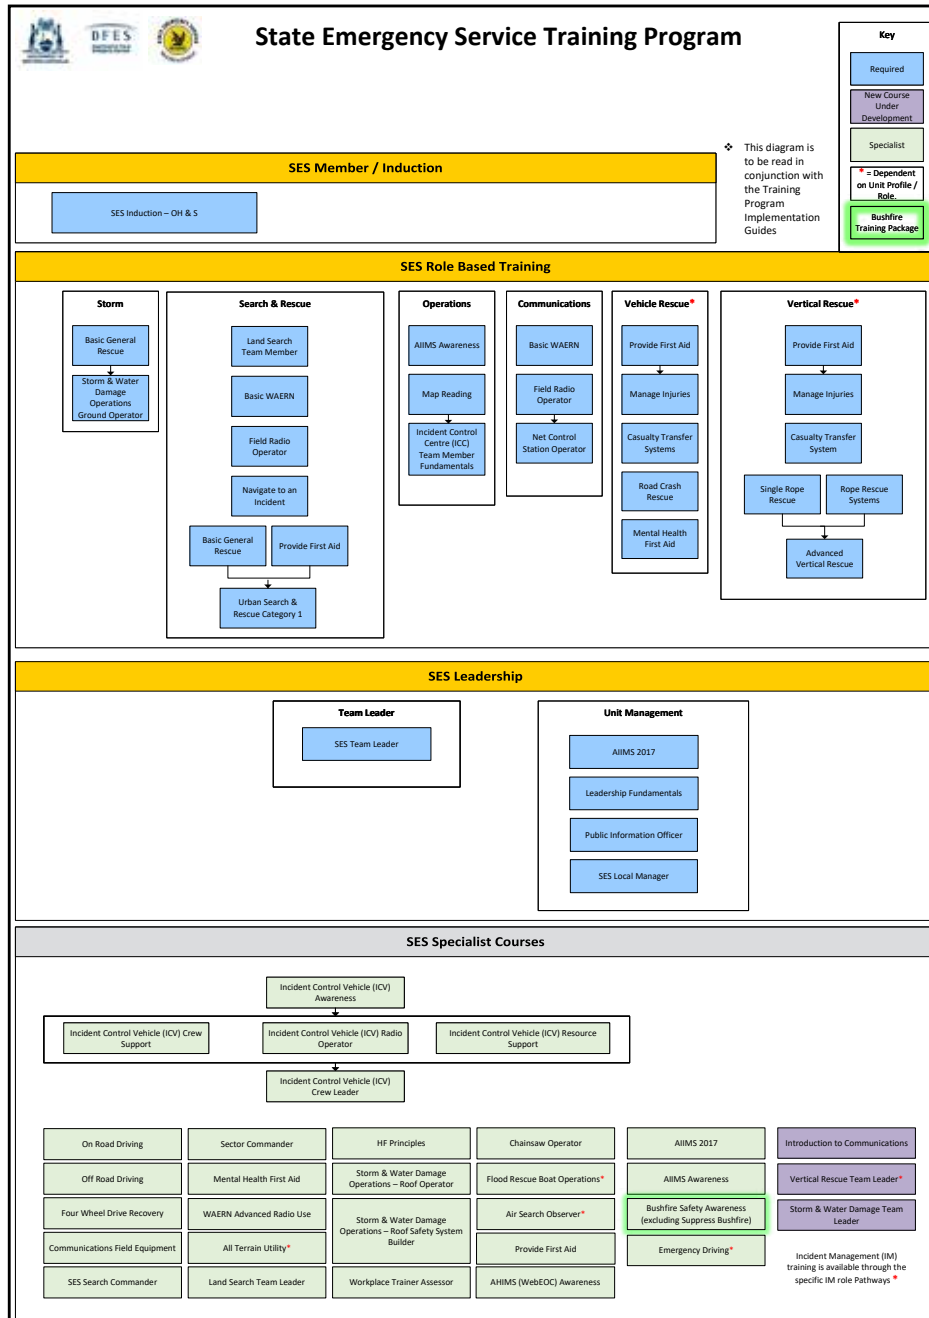

Firslly, we are delighted to announce that Shaun Burton has decided to step into the role of Local Manager. Shaun is a long-serving, dedicated member of our unit and we couldn't be happier that he has chosen to take on this role. Thanks for stepping up Shaun!

On Saturday 25th and Sunday 26th four of our unit members attended the unit for an intensive Navigation to an Incident Course run by our acting District Officer, David MacLean. We gained some really useful and practical skills; from pacing out 100m to calculating magnetic declination. After completing some theory training in the classroom we heading out to put our skills to the test, navigating through the scrub on a beautiful sunny day. We're very happy to report that we didn't get lost.

Weekend courses like this help a few of us upskill quickly and take in loads of new information, which we then practice and pass on to the rest of the unit during our regular Monday night training. Every Monday the unit gets together to learn a new skill - those that have attended a course will share their knowledge with the rest of the team. If this sounds like a good way to learn some new skills, come along to our training nights - 5pm Monday at the SES Shed.

The State Emergency Service covers many different forms of training. Have a look at all the different pathways that are on offer! Active members of the unit can choose to focus on specific pathways or do a bit of everything.

If you are interested in seeing what SES is all about, come along Mondays 5pm at our unit, 98 Durlacher Street Denham. Otherwise you can chat with some of our great volunteers:

Sport & Recreation

Recreation Centre

Everyone is back in the swing of things as we wind up before the school holidays begin. Participation has been steady in all timetabled programs offered at the Rec Centre. Khayla, our night sports coordinator, has adjusted Monday nights with the addition of Volleyball being advertised along with Badminton. Kindy Gym has had 5 new families sign up as members over the past 8 weeks and it has been wonderful to observe the dads coming along with their families to attend Kindy Gym which has been predominantly mums in the past. All are welcome to come along to a session whether it is an aunt, uncle, grandparent or carer.

We are looking forward to planning and hosting an event in April 14th at the Rec Centre precinct oval as SBCRC has secured some funding from Department of Communities to conduct our Water and Paint wars challenge Youth Week event. The Recreation Centre will be closed on this day to allow staff to assist down on the oval and to minimise any paint and water making its way into the Centre.

Tish Browne has signed up to be a casual staff officer for the SBCRC. Tish will be assisting at the Rec Centre with the school holiday program and Kindy Gym when staff are on leave. We also have a number of new part time staff joining our office team who will at times be assisting with the Rec Centre programs. Welcome to all our new staff: Denise Mitchell, Emma Smith and Catriona Reynolds.

Barefoot Bowls

Barefoot Bowls has been a tight competition for the start of 2023 which has welcomed some fantastic manoeuvres from typically not experienced lawn bowl players. With the finale to be run after writing this article, teams including our local SES unit, Shark Bay Caravan Park and the Oldies continue to be performing well.

A big thank you to the events sponsor, our very own local Marine Rescue unit who has kindly donated a new perpetual trophy for this competition. Winners will be acknowledged in our May Inscription Post article.

ANZAC Day

Our Club will be welcoming our community to their facilities from lunch time on Tuesday 25th April (ANZAC Day) after the Pioneer Park service. A permit to play Two Up has been applied for and we will be putting on a free light luncheon for all to enjoy. The Shire of Shark Bay has kindly donated the funds to support our local ANZAC Day activities.

Membership

Everyone loves a cheap drink and cheap meals so why not sign up to be a social member of our local Sporting Club to ensure you can reap the benefits. Our members are offered cheaper meals, aren't required to sign in as a guest to our Club facilities and are the only people permitted to purchase take away beverages.

Living with History

Breakfast

During the early days at the Loop our kitchen staff consisted of Harry the cook and Jim his offsider. Although it was officially a dry camp they always seemed to have a few bottles available. For cooking purposes of course! Part of the equipment was a large oil fired stove, which gave Harry endless problems.

One morning he turned the fuel on but could not get ignition. During the resulting conference with Jim a couple of bottles were emptied. Harry then confidently inserted a naked flame into a fire box full of very inflammable fluid. The resulting explosion removed the top of the stove and all of Harry's hair. Breakfast was late that morning!

The Salt

When the salt project at Useless Loop started, fresh water was a problem. The company employed a bloke to clean

Should you wish to join now, membership will last you through until the 30th June 2023. As per our constitution, our annual membership fees would be pro-rata so would currently only cost you $12.50. Membership forms are available at the Club house.

Committee Update

Our committee would also like to extend a huge thank you to all the volunteers who have been helping around the venue at various times and many without even acknowledging their presence or assistance. There are so many people getting their hands dirty that aren't apart of our 10 person committee team. From bar staff and kitchen helpers, to those helping maintain the green, lawns, sorting our recycling containers for change, washing and wipe down the outdoor areas, tables and chairs. All work is greatly appreciated.

You may or may not have noticed a few changes around the venue. Especially inside with the layout of tables, chairs, bar stools, bain marie's etc. We are keen to try a few new things, especially before the influx of tourists and grey nomads descend on our area and see if there is room for growth. Things might work and things might not, but we can't be afraid of change. We may lose something good, but we gain something even better. If all else fails... hit the reset button.

out and possibly deepen several old wells on Carrarang Station. He was given Hookey, a local character, as an offsider.

On one occasion the expert was at the bottom of a fairly shallow well. He had drilled a couple of holes and was gingerly inserting charges when there was an ungodly explosion. According to Hookey the well digger hit the surface without touching a rung on the ladder!!! It turned out that Hookey, sitting bored at the top, had decided to blow a couple of rabbits out of their residence. Strangely, the bloke promptly returned to camp and resigned! He evidently had no sense of humour!

Starting fields remained a little low during March with some of our regular players away. Despite the recent winds and no rain, the fairways and greens remain in pretty good shape. The following lists the winners and runners-up for regular club competitions in February.

Club competitions continue with 9-hole stableford events played every Wednesday and Saturday with a 1:30pm registration for a 2:00pm tee-off. The 19th Hole bar is open following the game.

Players in the Saturday Competitions during 2023 will compete for a winner's prize of a $50 voucher at the Shark Bay Fish Factory very generously donated by Westmore Seafoods. The inaugural Shark Bay Fish Factory round is expected to be held early April at a date yet to be finalised.

Visitors are welcome at any time and visitor green fees are $5 for 9 holes (honour system) with cards available at the clubhouse. For those who want to have a hit after work, some shorter rounds (4 or 5 holes) are available.

Full sets of clubs (ladies, men, left and right-handed) are available at no cost on club competition days or by prior arrangement at any other time. Motorised buggies are available for hire on competition days at $5 per player for 9 holes for non-members and $3 each for members.

How Do We Get the Easter Date & The Total Solar Eclipse So why does the Easter date change each year?

Believe it or not, the reason the Easter date changes every year has a lot to do with astronomy! It's got nothing to do with a decision made by churches, public holiday makers or governments. Quite simply, Easter Sunday is deemed to be the first Sunday after the full Moon, following the March Equinox. The March Equinox is always on or around 22nd March each year.

It's a bit of a calculation and here it is for the Easter date 2023: This year the March Equinox was on 21st March. The full Moon after this date is on the 6th of April and therefore Easter Sunday is the following Sunday which is the 9th of April 2023! We hope you enjoy plenty of yummy Easter Eggs!

The Total Solar Eclipse 20th April, 2023

For natural cosmic phenomena, you don't get more remarkable than a Total Eclipse of the Sun! For a total solar eclipse to occur, the Sun, Moon and Earth need to be perfectly aligned in their orbits, with the Moon in the middle. As the Moon travels between the Sun and the Earth, its shadow is cast onto the surface of the Earth.

Eclipses are excellent examples of the extraordinary motion of the objects within our Solar System. This year, Western Australians have the privilege of viewing a Total Solar Eclipse on 20th April. On mainland Western Australia, the Total Solar Eclipse will only be visible from the Exmouth area. The rest of WA and Australia will only witness a partial solar eclipse.

How to View a Solar Eclipse Safely

Never look directly at the Sun. Looking directly at the Sun is unsafe except during the brief total phase ("totality") of a total solar eclipse, when the Moon entirely blocks the Sun's bright face. On mainland WA, totality will only occur in the Exmouth area. Everywhere else in WA and Australia will experience a partial solar eclipse which is not safe to look at with the unprotected eye. Solar eclipse glasses that are compliant with Australian and international standards provide necessary protection to view the eclipse safely. Only buy from trusted sources to ensure compliance with Australian and international safety standards, such as BinoCentral or Being in the Shadow.

When to look: From 11:29:41am to 11:30:40am, 20th April.

Where to look from: On mainland Western Australia, the Total Solar Eclipse will only be visible from the Exmouth area. The rest of WA and Australia will witness a partial solar eclipse.

No one wants a blackout during the eclipse

Let's not overload our power supply during our solar eclipse season.

A lot of people are coming from all over the world to see the total eclipse. We don't know exactly how many. But we do know there will be a lot more demand on essential services like power.

We're doing our bit by supplying more electricity, but we need you to do your bit to help maintain supply to the network to avoid power outages.

Don't overload your power supply by plugging in too many things, like camper vans or mobile cool rooms, as you could damage the power supply at your property.

Please keep your power use low - things like turning off your air-con when you can, line drying your clothes, taking shorter showers to reduce water heating, and reminding our visitors to do the same.

Because the only time we want it to go dark is when the moon turns off the sun.

For more power saving tips, please visit our eclipse website.
