Overdue annual information statements

More than 12,500 associations in Western Australia are overdue with lodging an annual information statement with Consumer Protection.

As a result, Consumer Protection has recently sent out emails to over 7,000 associations requesting they lodge the overdue statements. Some associations have never lodged a statement with Consumer Protection and may no longer be operating. Defunct associations can have their incorporation status cancelled and be deregistered by Consumer Protection.

Please act immediately if you are contacted by Consumer Protection staff about an overdue information statement. Lodging a statement is relatively easy and it confirms that the association is still operating and meeting its obligations under the Act.

Shark Bay Fiesta

The 28th annual Shark Bay Fiesta has come to a close with our hard working team catching up on plenty of sleep and finally getting our houses, lives and work schedules back in order. Our community is drawn together to host this event, running events collaboratively thanks to grant funding and financial assistance, sponsorship and donations from community, local and regional businesses and government organisations. The event brings large economical benefits to Shark Bay, not just at local shops but by allowing avenues for community groups and individuals to fundraise or make some money.

It's still the early stages of wrapping up the event finances however over the last few years we break even. This year we have seen around $75,000 worth of income alone come through the CRC for the Fiesta. We are thrilled with the success of the event especially the financial rewards our local community groups received fundraising. Reports of finances and participation results back from community groups and activities include;

- $2,970 of funds were raised through catering and a raffle to assist with travel costs for local student Kealee Poland to participate in her WA State Basketball team as she was recently selected.

- Shark Bay P&C Association - $1,697.72 from a money board and catering lunch and dinners.
- Shark Bay Bowling, Sport & Recreation Club is still calculating their profits but took $407 from bar sales at the Bingo event held in their Club.
- Katrina Steadall & Lisa Storman cooked up a storm for the 85 people who attended the High tea ticketed event.
- Shark Bay Arts Council - made and sold 12 headpieces for the High tea with an additional 3 sold on the day. An easy $150.
- The Cancer Council Biggest Morning tea cancer fundraiser raised $458.50 with a special thanks to Lisa and Pedro for kindly donating plant prizes for a raffle.
- $109.80 was raised on our Pirate Day fundraiser at Kindy Gym which has all been donated to the official Pirate Day fundraising group raising funds to support childhood brain cancer research.
- $390 was raised for a Real Futures Youth Program in our community.
- Workshops events was attended by;
 - 30 kids day canvas paintings
 - 88 attended the High tea
 - 22 adults at the watercolour workshop
 - 22 kids & parents at the kids watercolour workshop
 - 17 attended the Sleep & Wellness presentation by Red Cross
 - 37 competed in daily fun challenges
 - 277 people experienced the virtual reality RAC Rescue helicopter experience
 - 8 joined in the Sea Shantie singing workshops
 - 7 made their own no sew bags
 - 57 to the Outdoor Cinema for National Volunteer Week
- Over 15 markets stalls for the weekend.
- Over 800 meals were served.

These above organisations and groups did an amazing job catering or hosting fundraisers, especially when they can't predict the attendance numbers which is subject to weather the majority of the time.

A big thank you to all our sponsors with acknowledgement to the Shire of Shark Bay for contributing $8,000, Recfishwest for their Catch & Release fishing support of $5,500, Real Futures $5,000 contributions for free community workshops and the Gascoyne Development Commission for their $500 contribution. We had plenty of other amazing financial and goods support from local, regional and state businesses as well as fishers which is all used to subsidise everything over the course of the week including the free entertainment.

Lastly and most important, a big thanks to our 2023 Fiesta event team who have gone over and above to please the community. Everyone pulled together when we needed you so I must personally thank all our helpers; Natt, Katie, Judy, Joe, Brian, Tegan, Shaun, Bec, Tayla, Brodie, George, Sherry, Claire, Trinnie, Lisa, Jay, Amber, Jess, Catriona, Steve, Robbie, Leslie, Julie, Corina, Christine and our auctioneer Peter.

” Testimonial

It was a good week I think people are finally getting the message about safety equipment and expiry dates. For 5 days we conducted marine compliance on all vessels (not just Fiesta related) and we issued

- 2 Infringements & 1 caution for registration
- 2 Infringements & 1 caution for flares
- 8 turn aways for flares & 1 turn away for registration (skippers returned later compliant)

It was a great week!

The Shark Bay Fiesta Presents:

High Tea

On Tuesday 23 May the Fiesta String Trio visited the Shark Bay School for a music incursion. Helen, Katie and Emma brought some extra violins and cellos with them so every one of the Primary School students that attended could have a go. It was a lovely addition to the Fiesta program and well received by the students and teachers. We hope to work with the school and wider community to create more musical opportunities in Shark Bay.

Sleep & Wellness Presentation

The Recovery and Resilience Midwest team from the Australian Red Cross delivered a Wednesday evening information session to help attendees understand some of the factors that influence sleep and give an awareness of how to promote good sleep habits. Participants also learned some practical information and tips to help improve the quality of sleep.

Watercolour Workshops

Thanks to Art on the Move, Real Futures and GDC, the team at the Shark Bay Fiesta were delighted to offer two Watercolour Workshops on Thursday

25 May. Interest was high in the days leading up to the workshops so registrations were implemented to manage numbers. The response was fantastic from the community and spots were fully booked by Thursday.

We were fortunate to have a visiting artist from Fremantle Arts Centre, Jenessa King, a West Australian artist trained in both design and teaching, who works as an illustrator, digital artist, muralist and visual art teacher. She was assisted by local artist Sofie Seyah whose stunning artwork we are all familiar with. Together, Jenessa and Sofie led an afternoon kids workshop and evening adults workshop.

The groups were taught various watercolour techniques before quickly getting creative with their new-found skills. The feedback was excellent and many participants expressed a desire for similar workshops to run in the future.

You would have noticed extra Police in town, to support us during the Shark Bay Fiesta. We would like to thank Geraldton Police and Mid-West Gascoyne Traffic for the additional support and contribution to keeping you safe. The requests for additional resources will continue to ensure events are sufficiently resourced to maintain community safety.

We have had some significant damage that has been occurring in the townsite. It has been found that it has been a number of local children involved in the damage and they have been dealt with in accordance with the Young Offenders Act. Unfortunately, this is now occurring with groups of children, hanging around together, including at night, and culpability is becoming an issue as to exactly who is causing the damage, who is helping in some way to contribute to the damage and who is just an 'innocent' bystander. We continue to ask, if you see something, even something seemingly insignificant, say something and report the incident to us. An increase has been noticed in people traveling in boats from the boat ramps and travelling down Knight Terrace. This practice is extremely careless and dangerous. If you witness this happening, we encourage you to note down the description of the vessel, registration of the vehicle and/or trailer and contact us on 9915 9100 or shark.

Shark Bay School

We had a lovely start to term with our school community breakfast on day one. What better way than to get down to work than with eggs and bacon... We're hoping for a term of good health and high attendance all around, leading into Semester 1 Reports at the end of term.

We've had a hugely busy term so far, with lots of enrichment activities for all ages. It's also great to see students settling into their routines, in some cases with new teachers. A close link between home and school is vital for students to feel enthusiastic about their school learning and their homework. Teachers aim to keep families closely involved through regular Dojo posts and pictures and by welcoming parents into class.

We were delighted to welcome two new teachers this term, Ms Paola Osorio (Year 3-4) and Ms Jacqueline Barber (Secondary, and Science/Music), which has made a full class structure and enhanced secondary support possible. It's great to have their skills, experience and dedication added to our team. We also say farewell for now to Miss Barton as she starts her maternity leave.

Year 6 Camp

Our Camp for Year 6 Leaders occurred in Week 8 of Term 1, on country in the Francois Peron National Park.

Day 1: It was Wednesday 22nd of March 2023 and camp was today so I hopped up and got ready and got all my stuff for camp. I hopped in the car and drove to school (Koby). I came to school around 8:30 with my bags and met the other year 6s. After we met Capesy and he picked us up, we went to the cafe for some hot chocolate on the way to camp. Capesy put on some music all the way (Gloria). On the way we all talked about our responsibilities, and he even gave us a Malgana name, mine was Widia and it meant ocean. Through the red dirt we travelled all the way up to the Big Lagoon (Belle). We went for a swim. The sand was all gooey when you step on it and the water was amazing. We had ham and mayo wraps (Gloria). When we got to the campsite, we started to unpack everything, the swags, tables and food.

After collecting some firewood, we went to the Big Lagoon lookout and Uncle Capesy gave us Malgana words for compass directions (Farran). We went for a dive and had some practice runs on the kayaks. The water was lovely, so we all stayed there for at least three hours. We went out to the channel and had a bit of a snorkel and found fish and some coral (Belle). After it was dark, Farran and I and Uncle Capesy were playing the didgeridoo. We had chicken and roasted vegetables (Koby).

After dinner Belle had a rainbow pack for the fire to make it colourful. I was taking pictures of the fire, it was amazing. (Gloria). After that we were getting crabs, then I picked one up and it bit me on the rude finger. Then we went to the hot tubs (Farran).

Day 2: In the morning we all helped do the dishes. Then we went for a walk to the point and found lots of fresh goat and kangaroo tracks. We walked back to the camp and found Lucas and Levi had come to join for the day and were helping get the kayaks out. (Gloria). We had to eat lots of breaky because we weren't going to eat for at least four hours, we needed the energy. We prepped the kayaks, got into our bathers and had some lessons on how to control them because they were five metres (Belle).

When we were kayaking, we saw a turtle and I jumped on it and missed, Uncle Capesy jumped on it and missed. We paddled to the red cliff and it was so beautiful and so clear and flat. A sea snake tried to bite us (Koby).

We saw lots of stingrays trying to sink into the sand to hide from us, then we saw a turtle swim by (Gloria).

We went kayaking and saw stingrays and a turtle with one flipper. We went snorkelling and saw a sea snake (Lucas and Levi).

Then we paddled to a white, sandy beach, we went for a swim and saw a fish colony and then we went somewhere to fish and caught bluebone and blackie (Farran).

We went over to the proper side of the lagoon where all the tourists were because the current was too strong to paddle against. We got back to camp and stopped at the hot tubs and relaxed for an hour. Back at camp we watched the thunder and storm roll into the bay (Belle). Capesy showed us how to do the stuffing for the fish, then we wrapped the fish in tinfoil and then Capesy put it on the fire to cook (Gloria). You could smell it and it smelt delicious. We let the fish rest for a while whilst the boys played the diggeridoo and us girls played the tapping sticks. After about half an hour we unwrapped the fish and had an amazing feed (Belle).

Day 3: Gloria and I asked if anyone had seen anything last night and Capesy said he saw something go by his tent and the boys said they felt something go past also. Capesy said it was probably a spirit which I believe it was too (Belle).

We were going today so we had breakfast first and then had a talk about the 5-leadership stuff – respect, leadership, safety, teamwork and communication. Then it started to rain, we hopped in the water and slid on mud bits until it stopped (Koby).

After camp was packed up, we said goodbye and we were all so sad to be leaving. We all had an awesome time, and we all say a BIG THANK YOU to Capesy, Miss Brennan and everyone who made our camp possible.

Swimming Carnival

On 4 April Mrs Harrower led our Y3-6 swimming team to compete in Carnarvon, travelling by coach. Well done team!

Easter Parade

It was lovely to celebrate the final day of term 1 with an Easter Hat parade and fun activities at school. Well done to the creative students and parents for the fabulous headgear! Thanks for supporting the Raffle and congratulations to winners Cason, Bodhi and Liam.

ANZAC Day

We were pleased to have our Year 6 students Miah and Isabella represent the school at the town ANZAC service on 25 April, laying a wreath on our behalf. The wreath this year was designed to be sustainable and plastic-free, being made of rosemary stems decorated with crocheted poppies created by Isabella in Year 8.

Creativity visit

It was great to have Creativity pop in and give a taster of their program of circus and music activities on 4th May.

Mothers' Day 12/5/23

We loved having a special morning for our students and their 'special someone', with a range of activities and a big morning tea.

LOTE visit

We thank Denise Scott and Karen Worth from SIDE for visiting on 12 May and running some very special activities with their students. Students learned the art of creating flower sculptures with vegetables and there were some very impressive creations.

French Pen Pals

Our high school students are in correspondence with students from the Francois Peron School in the centre of France.

String Instrument Incursion

It was wonderful to have Katie, Helen and Emma in school on 23rd May, playing music with the students of all year groups and running workshops to engage them with string instruments.

NUMERO Day

How great to have Julie from NUMERO back for another day of mathematical fun. She was impressed with our students' base level of play and was keen to help them upskill. Hopefully we can participate in championships one day!

Fishing Incursion

Thanks to Jack and Danielle for coming in during Fiesta week to educate our Y3-6 and high school students on responsible fishing and the efforts being made to ensure our fishing stocks last into the future.

Red Cross Incursion

Lorraine came in to help our Y3-4 students prepare for the unexpected with a decorated pillowcase that could be used to carry their most important things in the event of needing to leave home at short-notice.

P&C

We all enjoyed the disco at the end of term 1 - thanks everyone who came and helped. P&C lunches and fundraising at the Fiesta are also hugely appreciated and the results of fundraising have enriched all classes this year, with special learning support items and games. A BIG thank you from the teachers!

Real Futures

Real Futures is the provider for Centrelink and we work with the local Job Seekers prior to commencing employment as well as offering post placement support. We also put money back into the community here in Denham. We will be covering the cost of meals on wheels prepared by the Shark Bay School P&C with the school children. Meals will be provided to the elderly once a term this year.

Real Futures sponsored classical musicians and a Watercolour artist from Art on the Move at the Shark Bay Fiesta. I am sure those that attended the workshops or entertainment by both organisations throughout the Fiesta were impressed.

Real Futures held a promotional stall at the Shark Bay Fiesta Markets where we asked for expressions of interest in courses and tickets and were happy to receive suggestions from locals on the training they would like to see in Denham. I will keep the community updated on the courses and tickets once they have been organised. I also did some baking and raised $390 towards a Youth Program here in Denham. I would like to thank the community and visitors who supported the Markets.

Joint planning for & management of Malgana Country parks & reserves (Shark Bay/Gathaagudu)

We recognise and acknowledge Malgana people as the traditional owners of Shark Bay/Gathaagudu and pay our respects to them, their culture and Elders past and present.

Joint management is a partnership between traditional owners and the Department of Biodiversity, Conservation and Attractions (DBCA) to work together to care for and provide ongoing protection and management of Country on Western Australia's conservation estate. Malgana Aboriginal Corporation and DBCA have commenced work towards the joint management of existing and proposed parks and reserves of Malgana Country within Shark Bay.

Indigenous Land Use Agreement and Joint Management Agreement

Malgana and DBCA are currently negotiating an Indigenous Land Use Agreement (ILUA) to agree how jointly managed parks and reserves will be used and managed. A Joint Management Agreement (JMA) will also be negotiated outlining how Malgana and DBCA will provide recommendations and make decisions about managing conservation estate, including protecting Malgana sites and values.

Conservation estate to be jointly managed

The existing reserves in Shark Bay proposed to be jointly managed include Francois Peron National Park, Dirk Hartog Island National Park and Shell Beach Conservation Park.

Proposed areas where the creation of jointly managed conservation reserves are being considered include:

- South Peron,
- Ex Nanga pastoral lease
- Part ex Carrarang pastoral lease
- Part ex Yaringa pastoral lease
- Part ex Pimbee pastoral lease

Most of the areas under consideration are also within the Shark Bay World Heritage Area.

There are also proposed parks and reserves on Nanda Country, south of Useless Loop Road, within the Shark Bay World Heritage Area, that are being considered for joint management, via a separate process with Nanda Aboriginal Corporation.

Joint management plan

Joint management also includes the development of a joint management plan which considers the natural, cultural, visitor use, community, economic and resource use values of the existing and proposed parks and reserves and outlines long-term management objectives and strategies to protect these. The joint management plan will be the guiding document for the existing and new parks and reserves, outlining how the values will be protected, the overall management approach and what activities can occur.

Community consultation

The joint management plan will be developed in consultation with the community, to incorporate community ideas and aspirations. There will be various opportunities for input from the community during the preparation of the draft joint management plan. The community and stakeholders will also have a say on the draft joint management plan when it is released for a two-month public comment period, and preparation of the final management plan will take those comments into account.

Be on alert for bitumen bandits – Consumer Protection WA has received reports they may be currently targeting consumers and businesses with their dodgy work.

These travelling fake tradies offer to re-surface driveways and car parks, but the standard of their work is extremely poor and they break consumer laws by approaching potential customers uninvited and failing to observe the required ten business day cooling off period.

If you're approached, send them on their way and contact Consumer Protection immediately on 1300 30 40 54 or consumer@dmirs.wa.gov.au to report their whereabouts. Information such as descriptions of the offenders, vehicle registration numbers or business names used are also useful."

BAITING TO PROTECT NATIVE WILDLIFE

Under the Parks and Wildlife Service's Western Shield program, baiting to control foxes and feral cats occurs on more than three million hectares of conservation lands in Western Australia.

The baits used are toxic to introduced animals but not to native animals which have an evolved tolerance to the active compound (1080). All baited areas are signposted.

Baiting occurs on a regular and ongoing basis to protect endangered native animals including the numbat, western ground parrot and western swamp tortoise.

Attention pet owners: these baits will kill domestic dogs and cats. Baited areas must be considered dangerous for pet dogs and cats at all times.

For more information and maps on areas baited under Western Shield visit dbca.wa.gov.au/westernshield or contact your local Parks and Wildlife Service district office.

Western Shield is generously sponsored by Alcoa Foundation, Tronox and Western Areas.

Although it has been a relatively quiet month on the callout front with just two calls for assistance to search for a missing prospector halfway between Mount Magnet and Cue, the team has still been quite busy. We also donated sand bags towards the sand art that occurred on the beach during the Creality event on the 7th of May. It was all hands on deck to set up the catering area for this year's Fiesta which is something the Unit has done for a number of years now. We donate the use of our marquees for the event which are part of the equipment from our search trailer that would normally be used to set up forward operating bases during search and rescue operations, or just to supply some shade for our volunteers while on deployment. It's always a welcome refresher for us to re familiarise ourselves with the equipment and to test our knot tying skills.

We have also taken delivery of some new tools and equipment that will expand our search and rescue capabilities. One piece of equipment we are super excited about is a sling shot to help launch ropes over buildings to assist setting up our roof safety system when doing our roof repair work. I'm sure this will make for some fun training sessions as we are told they take a bit of getting used to before you master them.

There are a few training opportunities coming up throughout the region, with members heading away for search training and some leadership training. One of our members is also heading away next month to complete a trainer assessor course. Once completed this will open a whole new training avenue with our Unit to be able to hold a lot more local training to ensure members stay up to date.

A huge thank you to everyone that supported WOW day this year. Although it was celebrated on the 17th of May, we held our event a week later to tie in with the Shark Bay Fiesta. Thanks also goes to Red Cross that came along to hold a wellness and sleep presentation. It was great to see all the orange worn amongst the crowd including an entire boat crew who entered the fishing competition.

If any of this appeals to you or you just have a passion to help your community like we do, then come along to one of our training nights that are held on Mondays from 5pm at our Unit, 98 Durlacher Street Denham. Or feel free to contact us on 0429 481 218, drop us an email at sessharkbay@iinet.net.au or message us through our Facebook page.

Living with History - Bonfire

After the war the local race meetings were revived in all the Nor'West towns. They were the social event of the year and people thought nothing of travelling hundreds of miles with their horses to the various meetings.

The races were for grass-fed horses and amateur riders, so a lot was left to the honesty of the racing fraternity. Most meetings were dominated by the squattocracy as they had the horses to pick from and the money to train them. The price of wool was up, money was plentiful and some of the men who considered themselves the cream of local society were not averse to resorting to a bit of skulduggery - such as employing rubbed-out jockeys as riders and trainers, and stabling the horses to feed them up for weeks prior to the races.

Arthur, a old Roebourne truck driver, acquired a horse. It was called Bonfire and its pedigree was unknown. Ross, another driver who had some station experience, was to ride it. Bonfire was nominated for the main race on Saturday, which was the Ladies Bracelet. At the Calcutta sweep on Friday night, Arthur bought his horse cheaply as the only people interested in Bonfire were all his mates.

Grass-fed races were only run over four furlongs so it was flat out from the word go. On Saturday, Ron jumped Bonfire out and was never headed. Arthur proudly led in his first winner.

The prize presentations were held that night at the dance, which was in the cleared dining room of the old Victoria Hotel. When Arthur's coloured wife, Elsie, who all the truckers fondly called Mum, fronted up to receive the Ladies Bracelet, there were a few well-bred noses turned up but, on the whole, it was a popular win.

Arthur had the taste of victory now, so at the family conference on Sunday he announced that Bonfire was in the cup on Monday. Ron was confident. He reckoned if Bonny did not win it would have to be a good horse that beat him. At the Calcutta Sweep on Monday morning, they had a stroke of luck: Ron's wife Shirley drew Bonfire in the sweep, so with this advantage they managed to buy him.

The Cup was the last race of the afternoon. Arthur and Ron spent the whole afternoon sitting in the stall with Bonfire. I think the little horse was the least nervous of the three of them. When they lined up for the Cup, a smart cheeky type on a favoured Port Hedland horse tried to jostle and upset Bonfire but when the starter said go, Bonny went. It was Bonfire first, the rest nowhere.

At the Race Ball that night, when Arthur lined up to receive the Cup in his usual dress of well-washed dungorees and flannel it put a bit of a damper on proceedings. The main celebration, however, was in the Front Bar of the Vic. Every trucker and lumper in town had backed Bonfire. That was the year they changed a lot of the rules. It's hard for a battler to win nowadays!

Kindy Gym Pirate Day Fundraiser

On Tuesday the 23rd of May, our kindy gym session headed down to the Fiesta Marquee to host a Pirate Day fundraiser. Pirate Day is an annual national day of dressing up to raise awareness and much-needed funds for childhood brain cancer. Twenty four adults and thirty children attended the marquee and helped us to raise $109.80 so a big thank you to all that contributed their treasure to the cause. We celebrated Pirate Day and the Fiesta by doing a variety of ocean themed crafts and activities while rounding out the session with a lovely morning tea and then immersing both parents and children into a singalong. A huge thank you to Rebecca Moroney and the CRC team for all their assistance.

Afterschool Sports Sessions

Afterschool sports sessions continue on Mondays although we have changed Wednesday open courts sessions to a Thursday with Corina. All participants at the Centre are asked to clean up and pack away equipment after using it and must at all times treat property (and others) with respect. Failure to do so may result in children receiving a banning notice for a period or time, which has occurred lately due to some children not displaying respect to both property, other patrons and the staff. We must note that the vast majority of local kids understand and follow the rules but it's a shame a few continue to have to be reminded.

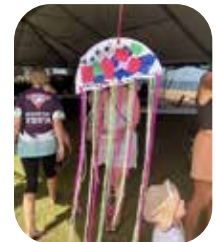

Night sports sessions

Khayla continues to run her night sports sessions on a Monday and Wednesday evening. On Monday's from 6pm, Volleyball has taken over from badminton becoming a popular team sport to participate in here in the Bay. Whether you're a beginner, veteran, or just looking to have some fun - come along and join in - the more the merrier.

Wednesday's from 6pm (although people start arriving from 5.45pm to warm up) is also a great workout for any adults or teens eager to play some fast paced basketball. Anyone keen to practise their umpiring are more than welcome to come along to keep up to date with their umpiring skills. Teams are made up on the night and are multisexed.

Consumer Watch

Keep your wits when buying tickets

Live sport and music lovers will be spoilt for choice in the coming months, as Western Australia gets set to host to a slew of major international events.

Competition for tickets to the likes of the FIFA Women's World Cup, Coldplay and P!NK has been fierce, so it's never been more important for WA consumers to stay on the ball when trying to secure their own seat or spot.

We have no doubt ticket scalpers and scammers will come crawling out of the woodwork to offer tickets on resale sites or online classifieds that either don't exist or are at illegally inflated prices.

That's why your safest option is to always buy tickets through the authorised ticketing agent, or via its authorised resale site if you miss out.

Before snapping up tickets to any event, it's important to check whether they come with a 'resale restriction.' If they do, it means you cannot sell them for more than a 10 per cent mark-up and you may have issues transferring them into a different name should you no longer be able to attend. When advertising tickets with resale restrictions, resellers must also remember to include the original ticket cost (including booking fees) and details of the seat row and number.

Event goers can rest assured that when major concerts or sporting competitions are advertised, our compliance officers proactively monitor resale sites and online classifieds for fake tickets and to ensure genuine resale tickets comply with the legislation, in addition to investigating complaints about misconduct.

Following one such investigation earlier this year, Consumer Protection issued five $2000 infringement notices to scalpers who illegally advertised tickets to the Ultimate Fighting Championship (UFC 284) event for up to 430 per cent more than they originally paid for them.

We want consumers to help us stop ticket scalpers and scammers in their tracks. The first thing to do if you've bought a ticket that doesn't comply with the law is to ask for a refund from the supplier or individual seller. Failing this, you may be able to seek a chargeback from your bank if you paid by credit card.

If you spot resale tickets exceeding 10 per cent mark-up, or believe you've seen fake tickets, contact Consumer Protection on 1300 30 40 54 or consumer@dmirs.wa.gov.au

Breaking the bonds that tie tenants to landlords

When you walk away from a tenancy, an important next step is working out how the security bond paid at the start of the lease will be distributed between tenant and landlord.

Tenants may be relying on getting back the money to help with finding a new place to live, while landlords may need some – or all – of the funds to cover damage or cleaning costs.

In 2022, only 36 per cent of tenants received all of their security bond back, according to new figures from the Bonds Administration Branch at Consumer Protection. A portion of the funds was paid out to around 51 per cent of tenants, while 12 per cent relinquished all of the money.

In other cases, neither the landlord nor tenant have laid claim to what was rightfully theirs at all – as the $4.15 million in unclaimed funds sitting with the Bonds Administrator and Department of Treasury currently shows.

With this huge unclaimed sum relating to tenancies that ended since 1990, we have been urging tenants and landlords (both past and present) to conduct a simple check on the Service WA app or the Treasury website to check whether they are owed any of this money.

When it comes to getting your own bond back, the property condition report (PCR) signed by all parties at the beginning of the tenancy is a key document that can be used to determine what damage, if any, occurred throughout the tenancy in case there is any disagreement. For this reason, we also recommend tenants take photos of the property when they move in and include those photos with the PCR when it is returned to the landlord or agent.

All bonds must be lodged by the landlord or property manager with the Bond Administrator within 14 days of receiving the money, meaning landlords have no right to keep any amount paid as a security bond, unless agreed by the tenant or stipulated in a court order.

We offer a free conciliation service to tenants who are in dispute with their landlord over the return of their bond, or if a dispute can't be resolved, either party may make an application for orders to the Magistrates Court of WA.

More information about rental bonds is on our website at www.consumerprotection.wa.gov.au, or for help searching for unclaimed money and other queries, contact our Bonds Administration Branch on 1300 853 829.

Country Stargazing

Have You Seen the Emu In The Sky?

One of the most incredible objects to see in the night sky is the Aboriginal constellation of the Emu In The Sky. It lies within the band of the Milky Way and its shape is outlined by dark areas of the night sky, not the stars. The Emu is best seen throughout winter in dark country skies and is spectacular, spreading right across the evening sky.

To find it, first locate the Southern Cross constellation above the southern horizon. Two bright stars directly above due south are, "the Pointers" to the Southern Cross. The Southern Cross is to the right of "the Pointers".

On the left-hand side of the Southern Cross, try to find a dark oval shape, called the Coalsack Nebula. This is the head of the Emu with the beak pointing downward. The long neck stretches to the left through the middle of "the Pointers". The body and legs of the Emu stretch halfway across the horizon towards the east.

When to look: 8.30pm, mid-June.

Which direction to look: South.

South Western Australia's Indigenous people lived by six seasons. When the Emu is seen high in the sky, it indicates weather is changing and getting colder and wetter. This season is called Makuru and was a time to move inland for sheltered locations. Campfires formed the heart of communities, providing warmth and a place to gather for music and storytelling.

Another beautiful cosmic view to enjoy will be on the 22nd June when Mars, Venus and the Moon make a close approach together. The three celestial objects will form an almost perfect equilateral triangle in the western sky. The evening star Venus, the red planet Mars and the lovely thin slither of the Moon will make a spectacular site in the twilight sky.

When to look: Sunset to 8.00pm on the 22nd June.

Which direction to look: North west.

Fisheries - DPIRD Media

This month may just be the busiest month of the year for recreational fishing in the Shark Bay region, as holiday-makers head north for warmer weather. Shark Bay's inner gulfs are one of the most popular destinations for boat-based fishers in Western Australia and ensuring fishers are sticking to the rules is vital to maintaining the fishing experience.

One of the attractions of the Shark Bay inner gulfs pink snapper resource is that it offers recreational fishers the opportunity to catch trophy-size fish in a unique setting. However, there are specific fishing rules in place during this period to help preserve each of the separate breeding stocks of pink snapper in the gulfs to ensure future fishing experiences.

A pink snapper closure is in place for May, June and July in the Eastern Gulf to provide protection for the breeding aggregations which occur during this period in that area, which is critical for sustaining this stock. In addition, to protect the Freycinet Estuary stock, pink snapper fishing is not allowed in this location between 15 August and 30 September (inclusive).

It is important to note that these rules are in place because there is limited mixing between the pink snapper stocks in Shark Bay's three inner gulfs and the wider-ranging oceanic population, so being small and reproductively isolated makes all of the inner gulf stocks vulnerable to overfishing.

Director for Regional Compliance in the Midwest and Gascoyne, Mick Kelly said with the current peak season attracting fishers to the region right now, it's important for them to note the recreational fishing rules for the inner gulfs are different to the pink snapper rules that apply in all other areas of the Gascoyne.

"Recreational boat-based fishers in Shark Bay's inner gulfs can land two pink snapper per day per licensed fisher, provided they are at least 50 centimetres long," Mr Kelly said. "If you catch two pink snapper, you can take three other demersal finfish within the total mixed species bag limit.

"In other areas of the Gascoyne, outside Shark Bay's inner gulfs, the minimum size limit for pink snapper is 41 centimetres and the bag limit is three, but the mixed species bag limit is five.

"Fishers need to be aware that the inner gulf rules apply when landing pink snapper at a boat ramp such as Denham, even if the fish were caught outside the inner gulfs.

"Earlier this month, DPIRD Fisheries Officers inspected a group of people fishing at Shark Bay who had all exceeded their daily limit by more than twice the legal limit. The four people involved are facing prosecution for exceeding their possession limit of fillets and whole fish."

The rules for fishers are available in the Recreational fishing guide 2023. A map of the Shark Bay region and the respective pink snapper closure dates are available on page 60 of the guide.
