Parking "Over the top"...

Someone seemed desperate for parking... Last month, we were very surprised to find someone "parked" at the CRC... Well it seemed they actually missed the parking and came down in the middle of the "courtyard area" where people often sit in the sun while on the Wifi or waiting for an appointment! Luckily there was no one there that day!

All jokes apart, we are very glad everyone was safe and the car was extracted without too much damage... A big Thank you to the Shire crew who came and fixed the wall the very next day! It looks like "nothing happened"....!

Remember be safe on the road!
Do not drive tired and be aware of your surroundings.

GET ONLINE WEEK

2.5 million people are currently not online in Australia, and 4 million people have limited digital skills.

Get Online Week began in 2007 in the UK as an initiative to bring digital inclusion to national attention. Since then the campaign has grown into a week-long annual celebration, with thousands of events taking place each year, bringing digital skills and know-how to everyone.

Good Things Foundation brought Get Online Week to Australia for the first time during 2018 and has offered grant funding again for organisations to host activities from the 14th-20th October 2019.

Over 750 events were held across Australia in 2018, helping people with limited digital skills make the most of the internet. We worked together with commercial partners, stakeholders in government and community organisations to reach out and encourage people to get involved and #try1thing new online.

This October, the Good Things Foundation is bringing together partners, volunteers and communities to ensure everyone can take part in our increasingly digital world. Events will take place across the country, providing a friendly and welcoming opportunity for Australians to take the next step on their online journey.

The Shark Bay CRC has been successful in receiving $1,500 worth of funding to hold an event, so we will release more details closer to the date!

BE CONNECTED

Did you know that the Shark Bay CRC receives funding from the Department of Primary Industries and Regional Development to provide one on one training for community capacity building here in our community? This includes assisting you with your technology queries (iPads, phones etc). Our staff recently held a free group training session for the over 50's in our community and assisted participants with their list of queries regards utilising their iPads. 4 people attended and are now able to;

- create photo albums (especially a grandkids album)
- add folders in their emails and file each email
- backup their devices apps and data to their iCloud
- save images from an email and add them to specific photo albums

If you have any questions, regardless of how silly you might think they are, or would like to learn a little bit more about something on your iPad, phone, laptop etc, please ask us at the CRC to assist. If we are unsure, we have ways and means of finding quick answers (such as the younger generation who are masters of technology as well as good old-fashioned Google answers).

Shark Bay School News

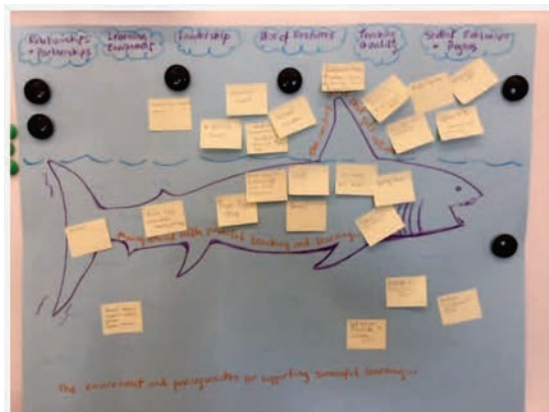

Welcome

Welcome back to a new term at school, especially to those families who are new to Shark Bay and a big thank you to everyone for making me welcome as the new school principal. I feel very honoured to be here in this special community and look forward to getting to know everyone.

Staff Development Day

Staff returned to work on 22nd July for a School Development Day. We started by looking at the School Review Report from last term. The Report summarises the ideas and intentions of the whole staff for continual improvement in practices at school in line with the 'High Achievement, High Care' ethos of the Department of Education.

The school, leaders and educators were warmly commended to me by the school review team and our regional director and there is a strong sense that we can continue to improve, aiming for excellence. Staff shared their thoughts on the foundations for school improvement, the selection of evidence-based whole school programs in literacy and numeracy and special events to enthuse and inspire our students from K-12. We welcome all community members to join in supporting our school to deliver the very best education to our students.

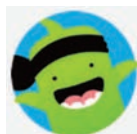

Feedback and Suggestions

We welcome suggestions for ways to improve the school to cater for student needs and your feedback on things that the community values most about the school. Feedback/Suggestions slips are available in the school office and a formal National Schools Opinion Survey will be conducted later this term.

ClassDojo

We are introducing ClassDojo across the school as an additional means of communicating with school families. If you have a child enrolled at Shark Bay School you should receive an invitation via the email address registered with us and we invite you to accept the invitation and follow the prompts to join the system.

Class Dojo enables us to post small news items, photos and videos to the entire community of parents/carers or to individual classes so that families can have an insight into student learning and activities. We can also send messages, such as reminders about library books, to a whole class, or to individual parents. Parents can send a message to the class teacher to let them know about something like a lost hat. Important or sensitive information would not be shared in this way and we would always arrange to meet or speak with parents in the usual way.

School Councillors

Student leaders for the term from will be elected from among the senior primary students on Friday 24th July. Seth, Josh, Beau, Esther, Ella and Matilda are all standing and have prepared speeches outlining their commitment to the school values in their own way. What came through strongly from all of them was their sincere desire to support the school and help younger students and in effect they will all be recognised by their peers as school leaders, whoever is formally elected. Thank you and congratulations to them all.

NAIDOC Week

We look forward to celebrating NAIDOC week on Friday 26th July, led by Chrissy Wear and Debbie Bellottie.

Chrissy – with some help from Rick Moroney and handymen in the senior school – has helped the children create beautiful native animal motifs for our school fence.

Enquiries or visitors are welcome to the school at any time.

Volunteer Marine Rescue

PO Box 35, Knight Tce Denham 6537 | vmrsharkbay@westnet.com.au

Things have been relatively quiet for Shark Bay Volunteer Marine Rescue Service since our last article in the June edition of the Inscription Post. We have done three recovery tow jobs and responded to one epirb activation and flare sighting.

One of the jobs was a simple tow back to town from Bar Flats. A second job was a nighttime tow of a vessel that had run out of fuel. He had departed from Nanga Bay Resort for a days fishing with his wife and two grandchildren but had run out of fuel about seven nautical miles out on the return voyage. He was towed as close as the rescue vessel could safely get to the beach in the dark at Nanga with a very low tide and allowed to drift in to where he could anchor.

The skipper of a large motor vessel called for help when his anchor wouldn't hold in a strong wind and he was drifting through the mooring area. Tamala Rose went to his aid and dropped one of our local policemen and a fisheries officer on board to help the lone sailor. His anchor winch couldn't pull the two anchors up as their chains had become tangled, so it was a case of getting them up by hand before he could be towed to a secure mooring.

An epirb activation and flare sighting off Bottle Bay turned out to be not such an emergency when the two young men in their broken-down dinghy managed to row themselves ashore using an eski lid and a floorboard.

Tamala Rose and the Fisheries vessel were heading to the scene at forty knots until a DBCA Ranger on the shore radioed in that he had the men in sight, and they were going to make it safely back to land. A good example of several agencies working together to achieve a positive outcome.

Five of our members have recently completed their radio operators course and exams, and six people attended a navigation course held over two evenings with a DFES trainer who drove up from Mandurah.

Your local Shark Bay VMR Service has been listed as finalists, alongside Albany and Esperance, in the "Outstanding Group Achievement" category of the annual DFES awards. The nomination was submitted by our District Manager Simon Miller for the successful rescue mission in May of a man and his two young sons from their sunken vessel near Steep Point. Winners are to be announced at the State Conference in September.

Your local Marine Rescue Service Volunteers really do make a difference to peoples lives. We would love to hear from you if you would like to get involved. New members are always welcome. Call 9948 1376 anytime and ask for a nomination form.

Meanwhile, stay safe out on the water.

The Shark Bay Entertainers

The Shark Bay Entertainers would like to take this opportunity to Thank the Shire of Shark Bay for their commitment in bringing into fruition the much needed upgrades to the Shire Hall entertainment facilities for the benefit of all; performers and audiences alike.

LET'S ALL ENJOY!

Wow, The Entertainers took the bull by the horns and accepted the invitation to host the “Over The Fence Comedy Film Festival”. The 21st edition of short comedy films titled “Imperfect Worlds”.

We chose to show the films on the 14th July, which added to the activities being offered that week-end; which included the Far Western Speedway Championships and the Shark Bay Winter Markets.

The Entertainers, like their audiences, were not really sure what to expect from a Comedy Film Festival, as this is the first one presented in the Bay. Yes, the films were different to our usual run of the mill commercial film productions.

Over The Fence productions is an important platform to introduce scriptwriters, actors, film makers and have their works shown to audiences through out Australia.

These films gave us the opportunity to discover a few of the many alternative film productions that are out there. Who knows who's career may be launched from Over The Fence Comedy Film Festivals?!

In addition to showing their appreciation by spontaneously clapping at the end of their preferred films, the audience was encouraged to select their three favourites.

It makes you ponder if the ideas for comedy series as Squinters germinate from such fringe film festivals as Over The Fence Productions?

Cheers, until next time!

*Fay & Patricia
The Shark Bay Entertainers*

Intrigued... Beguiled... by the creativity and variety of the films.

Watch this space for next year's topic...!

Service with a smile!

What a task: Voting for their first three favourites, out of fourteen films presented!

The Denham Crafters group has been a buzz for the last couple of months.

We have had up to 20 ladies on some occasions so you can only imagine the level of chit-chat taking place along with needles clicking and hooks dashing.

I must say the visitors always get things going and seem to love sharing their ideas, there has been a fair bit of teaching others how their work has been done.

It's lovely to see people passing on their skills to others. A lot of the ladies who helped out with our yarn bombing and bunting for last years festival have been back and we look forward to them returning next and in the following years. Sadly they bring us news of whom will not be able to return to the Bay as either they or their partner has health issues or it's a case of that dreaded old age catching up. We do miss them dearly and hope things improve for them.

Our thanks go to Irene who keeps the group going providing afternoon tea and helps steer our ship along. On this matter our group is looking for someone to help take over the responsibility for running the group. We do need at least 2 people or more to run the group as there are holidays to take, appointments with doctors in Geraldton (we are ageing, you know), general shopping trips, and trips to see our grandchildren.

Therefore we need you to indicate to Irene or myself that you are prepared to help run the group for next year. This may seem a little early but seeing as we go into recess mid December we need to get organised now.

I am sure you all know why we need the Crafters group but I will point out the obvious and hope that it inspires you to take up a more active part.

Firstly we need to show the younger generation how competent we are, which we did very successfully last year for our 2018 festival. Socially the group helps each of us to stay in contact and this in turn improves our general health and well being.

It provides an outlet for us to come together, share a cuppa, provide support and a shoulder to lean on while we also share our craft skills and knowledge.

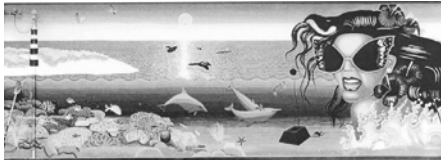

The opportunity is yours to come join in or help share the load with Irene and myself as we know that many hands make light work.

Please come join us every Tuesday 1.30pm-3.30pm at the Shire Hall and if you would like to help run the group, even better, we welcome you with open arms as we need fresh new ideas.

The Rec Centre School Holidays

We had a steady flow of patrons to the Centre with 351 locals and 292 visitors participating in open court activities or doing the various craft which was set up in the foyer. Overall this was 643 people that attended our Rec Centre over the holidays. There were a lot of positive comments and donations that came from the visiting families who recognise how lucky our remote community is to have such a great facility (and for free)! Craft activities included making their own speedway cars, contact paper mandalas, paper fan windmills, painting and much more to keep the punters entertained.

Denham Seniors JOIN IN FOR A CUPPA!

Please come along.
Have a cuppa and enjoy a chat.

We meet every Wednesday morning at 10am
at the SB Shire Hall
(corner of Hughes & Durlacher Streets)

We welcome anyone 55yrs and over to join our group. Any visitors to Denham please feel welcome to join us, even if you are only passing through our town.

$3 only for a coffee tea & homemade cake!

Welcome to all those travellers arriving in Denham to either spend a few days, weeks or months. Please come along and join our group for a cuppa and a chat every Wednesday at 10am at the Shire Hall. Our attendance has been boosted by a few of our regular caravan visitors in the last few months. Some of our regulars are sadly not up this year and some will not be returning in the coming years due to our "age bracket". Our thoughts are with those who regularly used to travel north and we wish them well.

We eventually had our mini golf morning a couple of weeks ago after we had to reschedule it because of rain. We are not complaining as the rain has been very welcome for our gardens, our bush and the animals out in the bush, so a little more rain please would be nice. Every time we return to Yadgalah mini golf we all comment on the lovely setting as it is most enjoyable sitting in their outdoor area among lots of greenery and shady trees. The whole process of sitting outdoors enjoying fresh air and chatting with friends is the reason we keep returning. Thanks to Yadgalah for providing such an enjoyable activity which can be shared by us with our families when they visit us in Shark Bay.

The Denham Seniors needs YOU. The reason I say this is because our Annual General Meeting is coming up and we are looking for people to fill positions and take over the running of the group. You may never have been to a meeting or have attended and not wanted to return, doesn't matter, come anyway. Whatever your reason, I urge you to rethink and come along and make a difference. Denham needs a seniors group for a number of reasons. Most importantly is the social aspect, interacting with others is most important for our well being. We share information about what's happening in town as well as issues concerning health and well being and entertainment. We participate in Seniors Week each year which is held in November and we have other activities such as mini golf, visits to our Shark Bay Interpretive Centre and visits out of town to see a show. We have people from different services visit us to bring us up to date on issues concerning retirement, health, money issues, nbn and local issues. We have even covered funeral arrangement as well as will writing. These have all been made possible with the help from the Shire to provide funding for projects and activities. Linda and Bec were instrumental in providing us with a great connection with the Shire and their organisation of events for us. We now have Candice who hasn't stopped since she arrived and ready to help organise anything for us. I feel like we have her in our pocket as she wants to see the Denham Seniors continue and is prepared to help in any way she can to make things happen.

The AGM is being held on Wednesday 28th August at our usual get together time of 10am at the Shire Hall. We will have our cuppa and the meeting will follow. All of the committee are stepping down so there is a great opportunity for anyone who would like to put their hand up for a position. I will be stepping down as President so we will require a President, Vice President, Secretary and at least 2-4 committee members. Someone has indicated that they would like to nominate for Treasurer but that leaves a very big gap to fill.

This is the time to step forward and put your hand up as the group needs leadership and this is the time for some new blood to take over. Age is not an issue as I know other senior groups are headed and run by people in their 80's so it is of no excuse. I'm the sort of person that if I feel like complaining or whinging about an issue, rule or the general running of things then it is time I stepped forward and did something positive about it like take advantage of an AGM to become elected and have a voice on that committee.

I am sure there must be some of you out there who have the same values and ideas that you feel you can make a difference and relish the idea of a challenge. This is your time to shine and have a go, it's a job you cannot fail.

Please come along to our AGM on Wednesday 28th August to have your say, get yourself

What a great poem by the late Spike Milligan about smiling

Smiling is infectious
You catch it like the flu

When someone smiled at me today
I started smiling too

I walked around the corner
And someone saw me grin

When he smiled I realised
I had passed it on to him

I thought about the smile
And then realised its worth

A single smile like mine
Could travel round the earth

So if you feel a smile begin
Don't leave it undetected

Start an epidemic
And get the world infected.

Kindy Gym - what happened in July 2019

We welcome our newest member to Kindy Gym, Poppy Willow Gray born on the 31/3/19. A huge congratulations to Poppy's parents - Jesse and Laura! We have had some time away from Kindy Gym over the school holidays but are back into the program again now. These photo's are from our session on the 23rd of July. Some of the activities that we enjoy doing are: walking on stilt cups, doing the obstacle courses (or taking it apart), stacking objects, playing trains and scuttle bug ride on toys.

Games 4 Toddlers - Toddlers love to explore - here are some fun and easy ways to play with your little one. Spending time together makes your child feel special.

Card Board Boxes - are great toys. They can be taped together, painted and decorated to become cars, towers and tunnels. Cut (or draw) windows and a door into a large box to make a house.

Sand and water play - Toddlers love to play in sand and water. Give them some plastic containers like mugs, buckets, spades and a funnel with a tray of water or sand. Never leave a child alone with water.

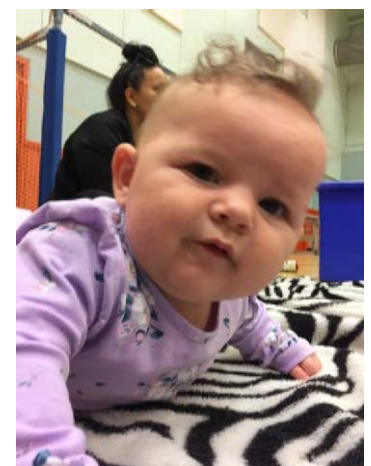

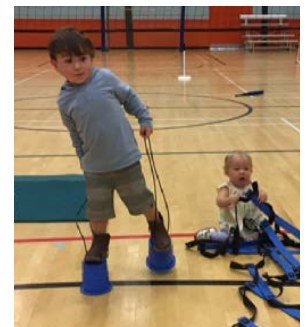

Making music - Toddlers can have lots of fun with home made instruments. Fill a tin or plastic container with rice or stones and shake. Nail bottle tops to a stick that you can rattle. Put paper over the top of a tin to make a drum. Make clapping sticks from pieces of wood. Play some music and get up and dance with your toddler.

Painting - Paint with fingers, brushes, sponges, toothbrushes, onto just about anything - paper, cloth, newspaper, wood, paper bags and plates, bark. Children also like to paint with water - give them a brush and let them paint the outside doors, fences, windows and walls.

Sorting - Toddlers love to sort things into different groups. Try using coloured pegs, stones, shells, pasta, big buttons or food. Sort the pegs by colour, shells by size, buttons by shape or whatever way you decide. Pasta, shells and buttons can also be threaded onto string to make necklaces.

Have fun!

Carnarvon lifts off with a blast at Apollo 11 50th Anniversary celebrations

Putting man on the moon was made possible thanks to the instrumental role Carnarvon played in early space exploration, when it hosted the world's largest tracking station outside of the U.S.

The town of Carnarvon was a buzz last weekend with past Trackers and people connected with the NASA Carnarvon Tracking Station returning to reunite at a cocktail party held at the Carnarvon Space and Technology Museum to celebrate the 50th Anniversary of the Apollo 11 mission, and the achievements of those that worked at the station.

Former Trackers spent time reminiscing, sharing stories and returning to where they lived and socialised, while reconnecting with a community they were once very much a part of and helped shape.

Member for North West Central Vince Catania said "for too long the importance of the contribution made by the NASA Carnarvon Tracking Station has flown under the radar, with many people unaware the historical landing may not have happened had it not been for the pivotal role the Trackers in Carnarvon played."

"The Carnarvon Space and Technology Museum, next to the iconic Dish, has been developed and run entirely by dedicated hard-working volunteers over many years, with great support from the Carnarvon Community, to ensure the story is understood and etched in history."

"An important tourism icon for the town, the State and Australia, the Museum tells the space race story and recognises how vital the site and Trackers were in the success of this mission into space."

"It's a credit to everyone involved, including Phil Youd, an instrumental driver of the project, insisting this important history be preserved and shared for generations to come," said Vince.

"Congratulations must go to everyone involved in the evolution of the Carnarvon Space and Technology Museum and the Apollo 11 50th Anniversary celebrations, recognising the extent of what happen both in Carnarvon and the World fifty years ago – landing on the moon," said Vince.

St Andrew's by the Sea

Elvis has left the building
It might surprise you that over 50 years have passed since Elvis Presley, the widely acclaimed & loved King of Rock & Roll, left this world. It was on the 16th August 1977 that he died in catastrophic circumstances, after a massive battle with drugs, food, and that most perilous of all ills – boredom. An experienced showman once said, being famous is the worst thing that can ever happen to someone.

Elvis inspired a whole generation to take up the guitar and sing sweet soulful melodies about love. His influence was seen in many Hollywood movies and his imprint in millions of vinyl recordings, in the yearnings of girls the world over when they saw him flexing his hips and pulsating his lips. The legend of Elvis Presley is quite incredible, and lives on in pop culture all over the world.

It might surprise you even more to know that this flamboyant entertainer was a born-again Christian. Many have found that hard to believe in the face of the extravagant self-indulgent life-style associated with megastardom.

In the spring of 1956, Elvis Presley's career as a rock 'n' roll singer was beginning to explode across the country. When reporters began digging into the past of this 'unknown' performer, they discovered a Christian background that was hard to reconcile with his sexy stage image. Raised in the Assemblies of God, Elvis during his professional career admitted to having a complex relationship with God. Many clergymen felt compelled to preach the danger of Presley and rock & roll. I remember that myself as a teenager. He himself, though, continued to assert that there was no inconsistency in a religious young man performing rock & roll music.

Who could listen to his rendition of Gospel songs like 'Amazing Grace', 'He Touched Me' and 'The Wonder of You' without thinking it was more than just a song he was singing? His wife Priscilla stated in a documentary that 'The Wonder of You' was sung specifically to the Lord Jesus Christ.

A good friend and backing singer of his, Donnie Sumner, himself a Christian, tells of how one day Elvis asked him what 'being born again' and 'saved' meant. Surprised, he responded, "Well, the way I understand it, if you believe the story that Jesus came as they say He did and that He died for sins the way they say He did and He rose from the dead, went back to Heaven and that He's coming again some day; if you really believe all of that and discount any other way to get right with God, then you are saved". Elvis, in that laid back way he had, looked straight at him and said; "Well, what happens then?" "Then your life changes, and you put Christ at the centre of everything you do."

On one occasion when a fan held up a banner proclaiming 'Elvis is King', he paused as he was singing, looked across the audience and with that charming smirk on his face, said for all to hear, 'there's only one King honey, and he is Jesus Christ'. Long live the King.

Seth's fishing report

Hello, everyone
Seth is checking
into the game here
and welcome to my fishing report.
I did a whole heap
of this month
because our family friends Tim, Jane,
Jack and Daniel came up to the

Bay for a few weeks over the school holidays.

We went fishing a lot and caught a few decent fish. On the first night they all got here, we went squidding down the jetty with all the masses and only caught three. But three is better than none, because lots of people got none. A few days later, we went fishing out on their boat Shilo and tried to catch a few fish but we only caught five blackies at Bar Flats, which still is not the worst you could catch. Better than a stinky pinkie!

The next day we went squidding on the boat out the front. We drift over the weed, which is great to do especially when there is a bit of wind around, as the drifting and boat rocking makes the jig jerk all by itself. We caught three little ones, and I caught two monsters! We went home and cleaned the squid.

One of the days we had a battle of the fishes, our boat "Yellow Canary" verses their boat "Shilo". We went to different spots, at different times and the winner was the team that caught the most fish. Unfortunately "Shilo" won but most of the fish they caught were all sweetlips! They said they just got sharked all day. Lost 30 rigs no joke. Even though we caught less fish, we caught spanish flag, blackies, charlie caught and some beautiful golden trevally. There was a giant school of golden trevally under our boat and they looked beautiful splashing about and zooming through the water.

I guess the real reason our boat "Yellow Canary" lost (only by a few fish) was because Mum was the only adult on board and the girls weren't fishing much so we had less fishers then "Shilo". We were really the party boat with all the kids but the weather was magic and we even saw a sea lion swim past our boat. No joke it came right up to us.

Just last weekend my friend Brody Child, Mum and I went fishing on the boat squidding and Brody caught one straight away, as soon as we started drifting. We went exploring after that over at Herrison before heading to the Bent Pin. Mum caught a 61cm pinky and instead of Mum catching the pinky, I almost think that the pinky caught mum. The tide was hooking and she was saying it was really hard to bring it in.

Thanks for reading my fishing report, don't forget to keep your lines tight and even better, wet! See you next month.

Employers should ensure at least one worker is appointed to be in charge of the first aid kit, the person should be responsible for making regular checks, replenishing supplies, maintaining the contents and ensuring the contents are within their ‘use by’ dates.

WHY PAY AMBULANCE MEMBERSHIP FEES?

St John Ambulance Shark Bay Sub Centre

Because it can save you a lot of money!

Do you know that a basic ambulance call out from the Shark Bay Hotel to Silver Chain will cost you over $500?

For Membership fees of just $73 per single and $121 per family you would be covered for all of these costs.

This amounts to a little more than $1.40 per week for a single or 20 cents per day.

Most pensioners over 65 are covered (please check your eligibility). It makes sense to pay St John Ambulance fee, doesn't it? saintjohns1@bigpond.com

CRITICAL REMINDER

To ALL RESIDENTS and VISITORS

For any life threatening emergencies or serious crime/incidents the number to call is 000

000 EMERGENCY

In Shark Bay many people have a tendency to call the local agency direct or private phone numbers of volunteers when requiring urgent assistance. Please be aware, this does not make response faster. In fact it delays the response time of emergency services as a response team can not be dispatched until the central command centre has directed them to do so. So call 000, response will be faster.

When calling 000, it is also important to remember that the operator will ask you the following questions, which will aid them in assisting you as fast and efficiently as possible.

Far Western results

The team from Shark Bay Speedway Club would like to send out a huge THANK YOU to everyone who helped make the Far Western happen this year. We appreciated every contribution wether it was big or small and from near or far. Without our volunteers or our sponsors there is no way this weekend would have been possible.

We welcomed 462 people through our main gate this year with 212 pit passes alone also allocated. 70 drivers nominated across the 8 race disciplines. Our canteen sales were up, so a big congratulations to all the team involved with the cooking, especially our canteen manager Eileen McMillan who worked long hours to ensure everyone was well fed and happy.

Entry and bar sales unfortunately were down this year, however the weather was magic, so we can understand people making the most of the calm waters and heading out fishing instead. Liquor Licencing police officers also came and checked our venue, ensured we were meeting all the licensing requirements with approved managers, trained individuals etc which was a welcomed inclusion into our events management, especially when we were doing everything right! It was also pleasant to see them out and about amongst our crowds, making sure no one was drink driving, or consuming their own alcohol at our licenced premises.

The days racing was very impressive with all our local drivers setting a great standard for Speedway Racing in Shark Bay.

Post & Panel Project

For anyone who attended this years Far Western you would understand why we are in the process of replacing our concrete wall. The front straight wall will be replaced at the end of the season so prep work has already started for that in the last few weeks.

This project is coming at a huge cost so we are still looking for more support. We are sitting at 35 sponsors but need to get that number up over 60 to complete the next section.

If you think, you could help with this we are after $200 donations.

This will allow you to sponsor a panel. Your name will go on the Post & Panel Recognition Board in the clubhouse for everyone to see.

Thank you for your consideration.

Any questions please give me a call.

Cheers

Mick Reynolds, President

3, 2, 1 Anchor Point Technique Training

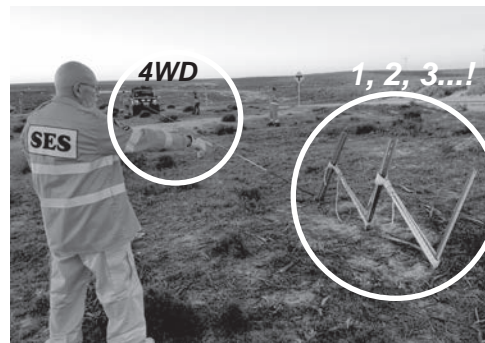

When you become an SES volunteer, not only are you doing the right thing, for your community and others (you might be asked to be support team for those fighting fires south WA for example), but you get access to lots of very interesting and useful training!

The team meets twice a month to learn valuable skills, that you might need one day on a call out, or on a week-end while four wheel driving with friends!

The topic of our latest training session was "how to set up a 3,2,1 anchor point". We learnt how (with simply a few star pickets, a hammer and some good ropes) you can create an anchor point strong enough to secure your weight while climbing on a roof, or even pull your 4WD out when bogged in the sand or mud (and you have no trees around or friends with another 4WD...!)

If you are curious about this and other training opportunities... simply call Joe (0419 902 895).

Patricia

REMINDERS

Workers' compensation essentials

Employer fact sheet

WorkCover WA is the government agency responsible for administering the Workers' Compensation and Injury Management Act 1981 (the Act). All employers in Western Australia are required to have workers' compensation insurance coverage for anyone defined as a 'worker' under the Act.

What is workers' compensation?

Workers' compensation is financial compensation provided to workers who become injured or exposed to diseases during the course of their employment.

Workers' compensation can include:

- weekly payments to cover loss of earnings
- medical and related expenses
- certain travel expenses
- lump sum payments in case of permanent impairment and/or permanent incapacity for work
- workplace rehabilitation assistance.

Any worker who suffers a work-related injury or disease requiring medical treatment or time off work is entitled to claim workers' compensation.

Why do I need workers' compensation insurance?

Workers' compensation insurance is mandatory and protects your business from the financial cost of a workers' compensation and common law claim.

If you don't have workers' compensation insurance, you can be fined up to $5,000 per worker you employ while uninsured, plus you will need to pay any avoided premium and court costs.

Additionally, if an injured worker makes a claim while you are uninsured, you will be responsible for all costs associated with the claim. Workers' compensation and common law claims can cost in excess of $1,000,000 so it's simply not worth the risk.

Who do I need to cover?

It is mandatory to have workers' compensation insurance for anyone you employ who is defined as a 'worker' under the Act. This includes:

- full-time workers on a wage or salary
- part-time, casual and seasonal workers
- workers on commission
- family members
- piece workers
- working directors (optional)
- payment in kind.

A contractor or sub-contractor may also be defined as a 'worker' if they are engaged to do work for the purpose of your trade or business and they are paid in substance for their personal manual labour or services. For more information refer to the publication A technical note on contractors and workers' compensation or watch our educational videos under the 'Resources' section of the WorkCover WA website.

How do I get an insurance policy?

You can contact an insurer to obtain a premium quote for your business. A list of approved insurers is available on the WorkCover WA website at www.workcover.wa.gov.au/service-providers/insurers/.

Alternatively, you can use the services of an insurance broker who will negotiate with an insurer on your behalf.

Your insurance premium will vary depending on:

- the number of workers you employ
- the amount of wages paid to your workers
- the industry in which you operate
- your claims history and risk factors.

The claims process

The following steps must be taken following a workplace injury:

1. Apply first aid to the injured worker and report the injury in your incident reporting system.
2. Get the worker to see a doctor of their choice as soon as possible.
3. Ask the worker to obtain a First Certificate of Capacity from their treating doctor.
4. Provide the worker with a Workers' Compensation Claim Form and ask them to complete the worker's section.
5. Obtain the completed Claim Form and First Certificate of Capacity from the injured worker.

All received claim forms must be forwarded on to your insurer.

You can be fined $1,000 if you fail to submit a claim to your insurer within five days.

6. Complete the employer's section of the Claim Form.
7. Take copies of both documents for your own and your worker's records.
8. Submit the First Certificate of Capacity and Claim Form to your insurer within five days.

You can be fined $1,000 if you fail to submit the documents to your insurer in time.

9. Your insurer is required to advise you and the injured worker within 14 days if the claim has been accepted, disputed or pended.

Waiting for a decision

An injured worker is responsible for covering the costs of medical treatment for their injury until a decision on liability is made by the insurer. It's important the worker keeps receipts during this time. If the claim is accepted, the costs will be reimbursed by the insurer.

While awaiting a decision on a claim, you may consider paying accrued leave, such as annual or sick leave, to an injured worker. It's important you seek the worker's agreement before taking this action.

If a claim is accepted, any sick leave must be credited back to the worker. Enquiries about annual leave can be referred to the Fair Work Ombudsman on 13 13 94.

Claim outcomes

Your insurer is required to advise you and the injured worker within 14 days if a claim has been accepted, disputed or pended.

Accepted

If a claim is accepted by the insurer, the worker's compensation entitlements will commence.

Disputed

If a claim is disputed, no compensation will be paid and the insurer will advise you and the worker of the reason.

If the worker disagrees with the insurer's decision, they can lodge an application with WorkCover WA's Conciliation and Arbitration Services.

Decision pended

If a claim is pended, this usually means the insurer needs more information to make a decision.

The insurer has a further 10 days to decide whether to accept or dispute liability.

If no decision is made after this time, the claim is said to be 'in dispute' and the worker can apply to WorkCover WA's Conciliation and Arbitration Services for resolution of the dispute.

How do I make payments?

While claim payments are reimbursed by your insurer, you are responsible for making payments to the worker. Your insurer will advise you of the correct amount to pay. You must:

- Make the first payment no later than 14 days of a claim being accepted by your insurer
- Make subsequent payments on the usual payday
- Make payments in the usual manner
- Only cease payments if your insurer advises you to do so.

Failure to make payments to an injured worker on time can result in a $2,000 fine for each late payment.

Medical appointments

An injured worker is entitled to choose their own medical practitioner for diagnosis and treatment.

If you would like a second opinion, you can request a medical review through your insurer.

An injured worker cannot be required to attend medical appointments arranged by yourself or your insurer more frequently than once every two weeks and only during reasonable hours.

A worker also cannot be required to see more than three medical practitioners who are specialists in the same field.

An employer cannot insist on being present at an injured worker's medical appointment.

If a worker's claim is accepted, their medical bills can usually be forwarded straight to the insurer for payment.

Prior to commencing any treatment, the worker should be advised to check with your insurer that any proposed treatments will be covered and costs reimbursed.

When can an injured worker return to work?

An injured worker can return to work as soon as their doctor issues a Certificate of Capacity indicating the worker can fully or partially return to work.

You are required to develop a Return to Work Program for an injured worker as soon as the doctor signs a certificate indicating a Return to Work Program should be developed or states that the worker:

- has partial capacity for work
- has total capacity for work but is unable to return to their pre-injury position.

A Return to Work Program template is available under the 'Resources' section of the WorkCover WA website.

If you are unsure how to best support your worker's return to work, or if you are experiencing difficulties identifying modified duties for the worker to perform, talk with your insurer about obtaining assistance from a Workplace Rehabilitation Provider.

Failure to have a Return to Work Program in place can result in a $2,000 fine.

Can I terminate an injured worker's position?

You are obliged to keep an injured worker's position available where reasonably practicable for 12 months following a worker's incapacity for work.

If the position is no longer available, or the worker can no longer perform that position, you must, where possible, provide a position that is comparable in status and pay and that the worker is deemed qualified and capable of performing.

If you wish to terminate the worker's employment during the 12 month period, you must give the worker and WorkCover WA 28 days' notice of your intention to do so by completing a Form 15G: Notice of intention to dismiss a worker.

WorkCover WA may undertake further investigation to determine if there has been a breach of your legislative obligations.

What happens if there is a dispute?

WorkCover WA's Conciliation and Arbitration Services provide assistance with resolving disputes over workers' compensation and injury management issues.

For more information refer to the publication What happens if there is a dispute? available from the WorkCover WA website.

WorkCover WA Inspectors

WorkCover WA Inspectors regularly visit businesses in metropolitan and regional Western Australia to check employers have workers' compensation insurance.

If you are contacted by a WorkCover WA Inspector, you will be asked to produce a Certificate of Currency (issued by an approved insurer) which you are required to keep on your business premises.

If you employ workers and do not have workers' compensation insurance, you will be advised to obtain a policy immediately. The Inspector will also investigate the reasons why an insurance policy was not taken out.

During the investigation, you will be asked to produce records of any remuneration you have paid to workers while uninsured.

Failing to produce the required records, or providing false or misleading information to a WorkCover WA Inspector, can result in penalties and prosecution.

Penalties for not holding insurance whilst employing workers apply.

Frequently asked questions

Does workers' compensation insurance automatically renew each year?

No – you need to obtain a new Certificate of Currency each year directly from your insurer or via your broker.

I have public liability insurance – am I covered?

No – public liability insurance does not cover you for workers' compensation claims.

I have a 'business insurance package' – am I covered?

'Business insurance packages' often exclude workers' compensation insurance so it's important to check you have the correct coverage.

What is an Injury Management System?

An Injury Management System provides a written description of the steps you will follow when a workplace injury occurs.

An Injury Management System template is available from the 'Resources' section of the WorkCover WA website and can be tailored to suit the needs of your workplace.

Failure to have an Injury Management System in place can result in a $2,000 fine.
